Our dance program is designed to spark and ignite creativity and to begin to build a foundation for more in-depth technical training. This one class per week program offers two levels of training for children.

In response to an overwhelming demand for recreational activities in Downtown Stockton, where poverty levels are at all time high, the free dance program was birthed.

GEORGIA ADAMS HOMES HAVE THREE THINGS IN COMMON:
1. They ensure that a person who is in recovery lives in an environment that is free from alcohol and drug use.
2. The residents reinforce their own recovery through support with other recovering persons, family and friends.
3. The residents pursue other activities to support their recovery by seeking training for employment, life skills, and social development.

Our clients attend meetings, obtain employment, and pursue further education. Our men are treated like family and with compassion, dignity, and respect at all times.

We require attendance of at least two meetings a week with AA (Alcoholics Anonymous) or NA (Narcotics Anonymous).

Although we strive to create an atmosphere of individuality and creativity, we must also provide some logical and easy-to-follow rules to maintain a positive and serene environment at our homes.
